

The Wizard from Space

Make Your Own Fantasy Constellations

Objective: To encourage students to exercise their fantasy in coming up with their own constellations based on a random pattern of stars just as the ancients did thousands of years ago.

Procedure: After explaining to the students how constellations were formed by ancient peoples by making patterns out of stars ask them to imagine that they lived in those times. Challenge them to use the included sheet with the random pattern of stars to come up with their own new constellation, or constellations. Some may wish to write a short story, create a poem, or even write a song using their constellation as a source of inspiration.
